Evolution Arabic Roulette Review

Arabic Roulette (also known as rulit earabiin ) is one of Evolution Gaming's popular native speaking roulette games.

It joins a growing list of localised table games including London Roulette, Venezia Roulette, Deutsches Roulette and Svensk Roulette. The idea behind these tables is simple. The dealer speaks purely in the native language of the customer.

That means 100% of the conversation and commentary in this game is in Arabic. This creates a comfortable and familiar experience for players who speak the language. Of course, non-native speakers will feel completely out of the loop!

Filmed from Evolution's Malta studios, the provider has tried hard to offer an authentic playing environment. Elaborate patterns and ornate walls fit perfectly into the Middle Eastern theme. For more details on the game and how it works, continue reading our full Evolution Arabic Roulette review.

How to play Arabic Roulette

Arabic Roulette is a single zero roulette game played on a Huxley wheel. With this in mind, this game plays out very much like a traditional European or French roulette game. There are no additional side bets, jackpots or bonus features. That means the house edge is a reasonable 2.70%.

As with any roulette game, you bet in which pocket you think a metal billiard will fall into. There is a vast range of betting options and styles you can use to tailor make your strategy.

While

nowhere near as fast as speed roulette - members can enjoy a pacey betting experience.

The Arabic Roulette dealers are skilled in keeping the conversation flowing - and the ball rolling.

It should be noted that the dealers in this game are outstanding. They are chatty and fun - communicating 100% of the time in Arabic.

Please note: Not all bonuses will be available to use on Arabic Roulette. Check the terms and conditions for more details.

Arabic Roulette Strategy

As there is no

extra mechanics in this game, you can approach Arabic Roulette strategy in the same way you approach a European or French game. Here are some frameworks you can use:

Low Risk:

Red or Black

Thanks to the low house edge afforded by the single zero wheel - it's entirely possible to play a red/black strategy. Simply bet on red or black exclusively during each game round. If you're lucky, you may slowly build up your bankroll. While this strategy is considered low risk - keep in mind you can slowly whittle your balance away with the low returns.

Medium Risk: Martingale

Arabic Roulette can also be played using popular strategies like the Martingale. To use this strategy, double your bet level on a loss. When you finally win, reduce your bet back to the default level. The Martingale is popular due to its near 100% chance of success. But keep in mind that bet levels can raise quickly - and table limits will eventually make the strategy ineffective.

High Risk: Reverse Martingale

A tweak of the original Martingale system that leads to a more high risk, high reward system. Instead of doubling on a loss, you double on your wins. This can produce short bursts of significant profits. However, you may eventually run into some bad luck which will bring you back down to zero.

Arabic Roulette Betting Software

Evolution uses the same betting user interface for all their native speaking games. Not only is this software easy to use - it also indulges your individual playing style. Here are all the options available:

Main Betting Area: Here you can select which spaces of the wheel you wish to bet on. All of the popular roulette betting options are available including columns, 12s, hi/lo and even/odds.

Chip Selector: This allows you to choose how much you wish to bet.

Roulette Racetrack: The racetrack gives you yet another option to place your wagers - and also comes with popular french betting options.

Autoplay: You can set each game round to play automatically for you. Choose how many rounds you wish to play for and how much you want to bet. The game will now place your bets for the specified number of game rounds.

Repeat: If you are not playing autoplay, you can choose to play the same bets from the last game round using this option.

Undo: If you change your mind about a bet, press the undo button - this will remove the last bet from the board.

Our Verdict

Evolution Arabic Roulette is an essential choice for Arabic speaking roulette players. Not only are the dealer's friendly and personable - the experience is immersive thanks to clever studio design. In the gameplay department, there's not much to say - it's a single zero roulette wheel. That means you get to enjoy one of the best house edges in online roulette.
